

Autumn / Winter 2011-2012

During London and Paris Fashion Weeks, Lee Klabin will be showcasing her third Ready-to-Wear collection A/W 2011-2012 'Forbidden Forest' inspired by the haunting after effects of deforestation.

Only in her third season, Lee Klabin has already gained a wealth of press from publications such as Vogue, Allure, WWD, Vogue Italia and WGSN. More recently, Lee collaborated with Perry Curties (Editor, 125 Magazine) to showcase her Spring/Summer 'Doll House' Couture Collection with the creation of a short film.

Taking the severe reality of deforestation as an anchoring point, luxurious fabrics have been stripped, shaved and eroded away heightening the strong, dark undertones throughout the collection. Playing with reflection and shadows, the different textures, sharp lines and panelling explore the depth and movement around the woman's body.

Lee Klabin's first A/W Ready-to-Wear collection launched exclusively with Harrods last year. Following great success, Lee Klabin's newest stockists for S/S 2011 also include Hervia Bazaar in Manchester and the Design Centre in Dublin.

Marigay McKee (Fashion and Beauty Director of Harrods) has included "Lee Klabin from London, whose dresses are proving a big hit" as one of the three new designers to look out for.
